

ImprovWorks! of San Francisco, California brings Magic to The Netherlands

Improvising Off Yourself

A workshop for improvisers, solo performers, group facilitators, seminar leaders & speakers.

Sunday, September 19th 10am to 5:30pm

with Sue Walden of ImprovWorks!

After 25 years of performing with her troupe, "Flash Family" (San Francisco's longest-running improv troupe), Sue chose to stretch herself by creating a one-woman improv show, "Sue & Friends". For four years, she adapted many familiar formats to create a highly interactive theatrical experience; and is here to share what she has learned about being a one-person ensemble.

This highly experiential day will include

- ◆ getting present with and aware of yourself
- ◆ "yes, anding" the unknown and yourself
- ◆ expanding your range of expressiveness
- ◆ excursions into the intuitive to access your deeper creative resources
- ◆ solo creating from anything and everything

Be prepared to be challenged and surprised!

What Clients/past program participants Say about Sue Walden

"The work Sue did with us during the Leadership Program was invaluable. I loved her energy, passion and sheer joy for what she does and how she does it."

~ Tony Barton, Red Kite Life Coaching, Sutton Coldfield, Birmingham UK

"Sue Walden is a terrific facilitator, who puts together totally engaging activities that always deliver a true learning experience." ~ Paul Z Jackson, consultant, The Solutions Focus, St. Albans, UK
